UMMA Group Advocacy campaign for Sudan

The crisis in Sudan has become one of the worst humanitarian disasters in modern history. As the world turns away, millions are suffering. We cannot stay silent.

UMMA Group is organizing a Sudan Advocacy campaign where we will bring the voices of the Sudanese people to the halls of power at the administration, lawmakers, civil rights fiery, think tanks, and public at large.

We demand immediate U.S. action to address the ongoing unheard atrocities.

Action items:

- a letter to the president at the white house
- a letter to your representatives at the congress and the house
- a memo to the public debriefing the humanitarian situation and call for assistance to dire need for basic rights and life necessities.

- create posters, pamphlets that call for an end to the war and respond to humanitarian crisis in Sudan.
- initiate a published writing competition among young Sudanese American about Sudan heinous catastrophic attacks against civilians, civility, and democratic transition.

Subject: Urgent Appeal to Help Stop the War in Sudan and Alleviate Humanitarian Suffering.

Dear Mr. President,

I am writing to you with deep concern for the people of Sudan, who continue to endure unimaginable suffering due to the brutal war, starvation, and mass displacement ravaging their country. The ongoing conflict has led to catastrophic humanitarian consequences, with millions facing famine, violence, and the destruction of their homes. As a global leader committed to peace and human rights, the United States has a moral obligation to take decisive action to help end this crisis.

As a peacemaker, I respectfully urge you to make history and stop the worst humanitarian crisis in the world today. Your administration can:

1. Intensify Diplomatic Efforts – Use America’s influence to push for an immediate and lasting ceasefire, engaging all warring parties and regional stakeholders to prioritize peace over violence.
2. Increase Humanitarian Aid – Expand U.S. support for emergency food, medical care, and shelter for displaced Sudanese civilians, while ensuring aid reaches those most in need without obstruction.
3. Support Accountability – Advocate for international mechanisms to hold perpetrators of war crimes and human rights abuses accountable, deterring further atrocities.
4. Mobilize Global Action – Rally allies and international organizations to apply coordinated pressure for a sustainable political solution that addresses the root causes of the conflict.

The people of Sudan cannot wait—every day of inaction means more lives lost and more families torn apart. The United States has long stood as a beacon of hope in times of crisis, and now, more than ever, your leadership is needed to help bring an end to this devastating war. Thank you for your attention to this urgent matter. I sincerely hope that your administration will take bold and immediate steps to alleviate the suffering of the Sudanese people and help pave the way for lasting peace.

Respectfully,
